THE TRUCKER IUL SCRIPT

RED - FOR THE AGENT
ORANGE - BE ASSUMPTIVE
GOLD - GOLDEN STATEMENT

INTRO

Hey [Client Name], can you hear me okay?
Yeah, this is [Your First Name] with American First IUL. I'm calling about the Trucker IUL you requested — it's the life insurance that pays out truckers if they're also unable to work.
You put [email], is that correct?
And [DOB] is your birthday, right?

WHY THEY FILLED IT OUT

I'll tell you why most of you guys fill this out. There's three reasons. You tell me which one it was for you.
1. First one's pretty simple. If something happens to you, your family receives a large death benefit of money if you pass away.
2. Second reason — and this is the biggest reason — is if you can't work any longer. So if you get sick, you get hospitalized, or something takes you away from driving, you receive a large lump sum of money so you can keep up with bills and living expenses.
3. Third reason, they want to set themselves up for retirement.
So that being said, which one was it for you?

IF THEY SAY "ALL THREE"

Client: All three.
I hear you, brother. You sound like everybody I talk to.
As far as life insurance, do you have anything in place right now?
And do you have anything for retirement? Like a 401k or a Roth IRA?

IF NO LIFE INSURANCE / NO RETIREMENT

Most guys don't. That's why we're on the phone.

Let me tell you what I do for my job so that we're not strangers on the phone, is that fair?
I do not work for one life insurance company like most people in the country. I had to go through courses, licensing, education, fingerprints, and a background check to become a broker.
So that means I'm partnered with 42 different life insurance companies that are A-rated and do IULs.
I don't care which one we get today, as long as they're going to qualify you for it, get you the most coverage, and get you the best rate. Does that make sense?

SEND CREDENTIALS

I'm going to send a text message with two pictures. The first is my business card and the second is my driver's license.
The reason that I do that is I just know how it is talking over the phone nowadays. Does your phone receive text messages?

Perfect. Let me know when you look at both of those, and then I can move on.

SET THE AGENDA

What I'm gonna do with you, I'm gonna educate you on how it works. We're going to make sure everything is affordable. And I want to see if you qualify for it. Make sense?

QUICK HEALTH CHECK

As far as our health goes, brother, do you think you're pretty healthy? Would you say you're below average or above average?

- And do you take any medications from the doctor? What are they for?
- Any diabetes, heart attack, strokes, or cancer in the past?
- How tall are you?
- How much do you weigh?

EXPLAIN THE 3 TYPES OF LIFE INSURANCE

Alright, I'm going to explain the different types of life insurance. There's only three. There's term life, there's whole life, and there's an IUL.

Term Life: Term life insurance is coverage for a set period of time, usually 20 to 30 years. If you pass away during that time, it pays your family a tax-free lump sum of money. But it doesn't have living benefits or cash value. If you outlive the term — like 98% of people do — it expires, and you don't get your money back. This is how life insurance companies stay in business.

Whole Life. It covers you for your whole life, not just a set period. It also builds cash value over time that you're able to access while you're alive. This is what a lot of truckers have to pivot to because the IUL is hard to get.

IUL. It works a lot like that whole life policy, where you have permanent coverage to protect your family if you pass away. But it's like a whole life policy on steroids. I'll tell you why I say that.

First reason is you get a higher coverage amount for a better rate.

Second reason, it has the living benefits attached, which I'll explain in a second.

Third reason is because these IULs gain cash value a lot quicker. Typically, it's around 8-11% compound interest with no risk involved. We call it a 0% floor.

The reason it sounds really good is because you have to qualify for it. These accounts are a privilege. They're not a right.

You have to be healthy enough and be a good age. You can't just sign up for it. That's why we're talking.

0% FLOOR EXPLANATION

Do you remember in 2008 and when COVID happened, people lost a lot of money? If they had an IUL in place, they would have never lost the money in their account. It just would have stayed the same.

That's what the 0% floor means. It won't grow when the market goes down, it stays the same. So it either grows or stays the same. Does that make sense?

BORROWING FROM CASH VALUE

If you ever want to borrow money from this account, like some truckers do, you can. There are no penalties or taxes on what you take out because life insurance is categorized as non-taxable by the government. So that's how we can use it that way. Does that make sense?

BREADWINNER PAIN

For you, are you the breadwinner of your household? Do you have a wife and kids? Yeah, same here, man — I am the breadwinner of my family too.
Since you make the most money, [Client Name], God forbid if you got sick or could not work, what would happen to you and the family? What would that look like? How long would they last? What would they have to keep up with?
But it wouldn't be good, would it? That's why we're talking about it. That's why truckers do this.

PERSONAL EXAMPLE

This is why I got a policy too. I'm the same way — I make the most money in my family and I have a policy on myself.
So if I were to step out of my office and get hit by a bus, and I was no longer able to work, my family would receive $250,000 as part of the living benefits I set up. Because brother, if I don't work, my lights are going off.

LIVING BENEFITS

This is the main reason you guys do it. It's called the accelerated living benefits.
So God forbid you get a critical, terminal, or chronic illness, you're unable to work, or you get hospitalized. You can receive up to 80% of the life insurance amount on the IUL up front while you're still living. That way, you can take care of hospital bills, regular bills, and living expenses.
Now given these three policies I went over, the term life, whole life, and the IUL, do you feel like the IUL fits your goals the best?

CONFIRM IUL AS BEST FIT

Client: Yeah, the IUL is the best.
Yeah, I agree. That's what most guys say. Just remember, it's hard to get, so we'll see if we can qualify.

BENEFICIARY

First of all, as far as our beneficiary, who's going to be that person that gets the money if you die?

- What's her name?
- How do you spell that?

- How old is she?

I assume you love her, obviously. She's your (relationship), and you're putting her on here.

FINANCIAL INVENTORY

As far as our financial inventory, this is just going over budgeting and finances.

- Do you currently rent or own a house?
- Do you have a mortgage or rent? How much do you pay a month for that?
- Any car payments?
- Any other debts, like loans or credit cards?
- How much do you spend weekly on food and groceries? Okay, so about [$X] a month, right?
- What else — any big bills I'm missing?

INCOME

How much would you say you're bringing in each month, just a ballpark? Is that take-home pay?

You get paid on Fridays? Okay, that's what guys usually get paid.

Are you currently saving or investing anything each month?

After all your bills are paid, how much are you usually left over with?

PREMIUM ANCHOR

Now, for me to structure your policy correctly, these carriers always recommend you don't do more than 10% of your monthly income. Most people start anywhere from $300 to $600 a month.

Where do you see yourself starting out each month?

IF CLIENT SAYS $300

Okay, that's the average. The average is really around $450/month, but it ranges from $300 to $600. Obviously, you want to be comfortable with the payment.

It's whatever you feel comfortable with because I can always increase it when we look at it each year. The more you put in, obviously, the more you get. So it's up to you.

Budgeting is important here. If you qualify for the policy today, you get to pick when to start it. You can either start it immediately, like most truckers, which means the payment comes out in the next 24 to 48 hours. Or you could do what some guys do, where you do it on the day you get paid, whether it's this Friday or next Friday. How much do you want to start with per month, and which day do you want this to start?

RECONFIRM HEALTH / DOT

Anything else I forgot to ask you for your health, brother? Because they're going to find out looking at your DOT physical. I just want to make sure there's nothing I'm missing here.

APPLICATION TRANSITION

Just remember, man, these accounts are a privilege. It's not a right. So we're going to open an application and see what the carriers qualify you for.
You're going to need a valid driver's license. It can't be suspended or revoked. And you need a phone that gets text messages. You have both of those, correct?

START E-APP

First page of application:

- Confirm spelling of first / last name
- Height / weight
- Mailing address (house or apartment?) — where would you like the policy shipped to at the end of this?
- Phone number on file
- Email on file
- State you were born in?
- Obviously, you are a US citizen, correct
- Attached to your DOT physical, you're okay with them running your medical records, correct (name)? Okay, what's a good social for you brother?

Social Security Objection:

Push Back #1: "I completely understand, sir. The only reason they ask for that is that's how they verify your health status — all the prescriptions and health records are tied to your social. And most importantly, that's the only thing on your death certificate when you die for them to pay out your loved ones. So go ahead with your social, please…"

Push Back #2: “I completely understand, no worries, we can do this. Go ahead and confirm the first 5 of your social and I can validate the full social for you — we do have the last 4 on file here, it’s just for your security. Go ahead with your social when you’re ready.”
TEXT picture of application: “No worries, do you receive text messages to this phone? I can show you better than I can tell you, for better transparency.” (send pic of app) “Do you see the carrier name and your name? Does that all make sense now? Perfect — verify your social when you’re ready.”
Post Social (break the ice): “Perfect… Now what they’re gonna do is just validate your identity and make sure it aligns with the record on file and that you’re not a crazy robot or anything… (chuckle) Obviously you’re not, we’re on the phone right now!”

HEALTH: Filler Questions (5 mins)
“Perfect, so the next part of the application, I have to ask you a few more medical questions. I know we already went over most of these, but they make me ask for the carrier record by law.”

- Do you use anything to help you walk around the house, such as a cane, wheelchair, or scooter?
- Any oxygen equipment to help you breathe?
- Any help with daily activities? Like eating, bathing, toileting, or dressing?
- Any COVID-19 in the last 90 days?
- Any alcohol or drug abuse in your past?
- Any Alzheimer’s or dementia?
- Any AIDS or HIV?
- Any hepatitis?
- Any brain tumor or brain aneurysm?
- Lastly, do you plan on doing any dangerous activities, like jumping out of aircraft or fleeing the country? (Most guys tell me they’ve done enough of that already)

Beneficiary: Build the Emotion (5 mins)

- Confirm beneficiary from earlier.
- Confirm spelling of name, relationship, and DOB.
- Confirm the % of death benefit they will receive.
- If spouse, ask if they want to put a “backup” or “contingent” beneficiary

Recap the Situation:
“Got it, sir. So just to make sure we have it exactly the way you want it — god forbid anything happens to you after the effective date, (beneficiary) will receive 100% of the death benefit?” (Bring up the why one last time)

PAYMENT WORD TRACK

Ok now the last part here is the states anti money laundering verification…

1. Now what day would you like for this to recur each month??? b
2. Ok and what bank did you want to list on file?
3. Is your name spelled the same way with your bank? Or do you use a middle initial?
4. Ok, and is that a checking or a savings?
5. Perfect, and it looks like we are partnered Name of bank 9/10 times the routing number that automates is correct

Read it off to them*. And the account #? Make them repeat it twice.

No Checkbook:
Question 1- Do you get your statements via mail or email?
Question 2- I'm guessing you have the app on your phone, right?

Bank Objections:
Push Back #1: "I completely understand. Quick question, (Client's Name) — have you ever given or received a check from anyone in your lifetime? Perfect. If you notice at the bottom of every check, you'll see the bank's routing and account number. For example, I pay my gardener every weekend with a check — my gardener has my routing and account number. The only thing I can do with that information, sir, is deposit money into your account, and I promise you I'm not that nice. (chuckle) Now go ahead and confirm the account number…"
Push Back #2 ("Why do I have to give you that banking info now?"): "I completely understand. The state is required by law to validate that the information provided is linked to your name, for your safety and the safety of others. Do you receive text messages to this phone? I'm gonna send you a picture of my screen for further transparency." (Send a pic of the application with carrier name and their name.) "Do you see your name there? And the name of the carrier on the screen? Now, whenever you're ready with that information."

If client gets denied with IUL Pivot to whole life:

"Alright (Clients Name), quick update for you.

We originally applied for an indexed cash value permanent plan. After reviewing your MIB report which includes prescription and medical history the carrier approved you, but with a slightly different structure than we first discussed.

Instead of market-based indexing, they're offering a guaranteed interest rate between 3–5% annually. That gives you predictable, stable growth regardless of market performance.

It's still permanent coverage, your premiums are locked in, and your family is protected for life.

We'll move forward with this guaranteed option today so you're covered and building value now. Then at your 12-month review, we can revisit the indexed strategy and see if you qualify to switch.

In many cases, this structure also comes in at a slightly lower monthly premium while still protecting your family and growing your cash value safely.

In just a moment, we'll confirm the exact coverage amount based on the budget we discussed. I appreciate your patience."

Locking Down The Close:

So (client name), everything is fully submitted (or approved) at this point. A couple things to recap, the coverage we applied for was for XXX and the name of the insurance carrier is XXX. Perfect now, look out for that policy in the mail; typically it takes 10-12 business days. Also, this number we are talking on, this is my direct line, it's the same number my mom calls me on. Anything you ever need in regards to this coverage, I'm always the first person you can reach out to, I'm just a phone call or text away ok.

Lastly, this is important,No one will ever contact you about this coverage other than myself or the carrier asking you for any personal information ok. But with the internet these days you will still probably get some calls but none will be anything in regard to what we did. So if they say they're my manager, it's incomplete, due for review, etc it's just a line of crap from some telemarketer trying to pull a fast one on you ok. We know this coverage is important for you and I don't want to see some random person mess up the coverage for your family alright?

REFERRALS

I’ll be sending you a quick text with policy details so you can save my number. My digital card will be in there too if you'd like to save or share it. The great news is your friends and family may qualify for the same options!
